2023 ASPEN PRIZE FOR COMMUNITY COLLEGE EXCELLENCE

TOP 10 FINALIST

"It is such an honor to be recognized as one of the top 10 community colleges in the nation. It says a lot about the commitment to excellence that we collectively have. We are committed to transforming our community for the better, and this award, which is considered the Oscar's for community colleges, says we are doing just that, making a difference with strong completion and transfer rates and outstanding employment outcomes."

Dr. Lennor Johnson, IVC
Superintendent/President

- $1 million prize is awarded every two years
- IVC for 4 years has been in the top 150
- Prize reflects outstanding performance in five critical areas: teaching and learning, certificate and degree completion, transfer and bachelor's attainment, workforce success, and equitable outcomes for students of color and students from low-income backgrounds.
- The winner will be announced in the spring of 2023.

60 YEARS OF EXCELLENCE

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

This past year, we have been reminded that IVC, our students, our faculty, our staff, our administration, and the entire IVC Family are truly remarkable; we are honored to celebrate them in the college's second Annual Report. This annual report will take you on a brief journey on where we have been, where we are, and where we are going as we celebrate 60 years of excellence.

The 2021-2022 year was plagued with challenges from enrollment, health and safety concerns, accelerated and unprecedented construction, and significant employee turnover. But IVC rose to the occasion at every turn and delivered outstanding results. We completed several construction projects, including the Disability Support Programs and Services building, the College Center, the Nursing and Health Center, and the gymnasium. We secured funding to expand housing opportunities for our students. Student life returned to the campus, and we hosted several community events. IVC is growing, while many other colleges are still experiencing enrollment declines. Moreover, the Aspen Institute has recognized IVC as a top ten college in the nation.

This year, a big focus has been increasing access to first-generation college students. One major way to demonstrate this is to ensure that every high school student in Imperial County takes at least two or three classes while in high school. Research suggests that dual-enrollment high school students are 2.2 times more likely to enroll in college and 1.7 times more likely to graduate. Not only that, students also save time and money and may even improve their class rank by taking college courses. We are very pleased with the growth in our dual enrollment program featured in this edition.

We are also moving closer to realizing our Comprehensive Master plan and improving our educational facilities. You will find an overview of IVC's 2021-2030 Comprehensive Master Plan (CMP), developed after a year of research and preparation. The strategic plan begins by reaffirming the college's commitment to equity, diversity, social justice, and inclusion, incorporating the vision, mission, values, strategic goals, and updates on our facilities planning.

Lastly, the IVC Foundation has enhanced its support of our students and programs and increased their fundraising efforts.

I am proud to share our many accomplishments, and it is truly an honor to serve as IVC's 10th Superintendent/President.

Sincerely,

DR. LENNOR M. JOHNSON
SUPERINTENDENT/PRESIDENT

STUDENT SERVICES CENTER

A new Student Services Center will be developed at the main entry and serve as a welcoming gateway for students and campus community. Upon arrival to the campus, visitors will be greeted into a welcoming, safe, and nurturing environment. The new facility will be designed to accommodate all student services in one location to improve access and increase awareness. In addition, the new building will include administrative office spaces.

MULTICULTURAL + EQUITY CENTER

Following the relocation of services to the new Student Services Building, the existing 100 Building will be renovated and repurposed to become the new Multicultural + Equity Center.

POLICE/SAFETY CENTER

A new Police/Safety Center is proposed adjacent to the east campus entry to welcome visitors to the IVC campus, improve access to information, and to promote a safe and nurturing campus environment.

FACILITIES COMPLEX

A new Facilities Complex will house functions currently located in the 1800 Building including maintenance, operations, and receiving services. The proposed location on the northwest side of the campus will improve vehicular access and provide a secure outdoor space for receiving/loading and yards. Following the development of the complex, space will be freed up to expand parking close to the campus core.

PUBLIC SAFETY TRAINING CENTER

The Public Safety Training Center site is identified north of the Athletic Fields to maximize land use to improve visual and physical connections to all areas of the campus, and to maximize land use to align with college priorities.

Imperial Valley College is on the lithium frontier in the wake of discoveries at the Salton Sea, already preparing appropriate training programs to provide thousands of workers for the extraction and production processes.

- Three new programs are under development:
- Laboratory technician
- Plant operator
- Instrumentation technician

"This will be an exciting time," IVC Dean of Economic and Workforce Development Efrain said. "We are committed to creating short-term certificate programs that will be less than a year."

AUTOMOTIVE, TECH, ARTS, ENGINEERING

A new high-tech Automotive, Technology, Arts, and Engineering education complex will be built on the northwest side of the IVC campus, with construction expected to begin in Fall 2023 and the building scheduled to open in Fall 2025.

The new complex will house:

- Mechanics' bays for vehicles
- A Maker Room, a special technology learning space designed to serve students majoring in engineering and industrial technology
- High-tech equipment such as 3D printers.
- High-tech classrooms and laboratories for art, photography and automotive education
- A diesel shop
- A machine room and general classrooms
- The college's career services center

IVC SUPERINTENDENT/ PRESIDENT EMERITUS

An Imperial Valley native, Dr. Victor M. Jaime is an IVC alumnus who went on to have a distinguished career at the college. Hired as a counselor for the Talent Search Program in 1980, he held several increasingly responsible positions before becoming the college's eighth superintendent/president in July 2011. He retired in 2018 after 38 years of serving IVC and its students.

It was at IVC that Dr. Jaime met his wife, Caroline, whom he married in 1982. Both were first-generation college students. Caroline Jaime went on to San Diego State University Imperial Valley and became a well-respected teacher for 38 years. A brick at IVC's Juanita Lowe Art Gallery lists the names of the Jaimes' family who have graduated from IVC. Two of the couple's three children, Stephen and Jennifer Jaime, also are IVC graduates. Their youngest son, Matthew, graduated from Fresno State University but would enroll in summer classes at IVC.

“As a first-generation college graduate, I encourage all Imperial Valley students to follow your dreams. Remember to listen to those who may see potential that you might not see. Follow your dreams. Our community needs you”

THE GARZA AND BOWEN FAMILIES

Our family looked at IVC as a powerful and helpful entity that set the foundation for our individual success. I returned to the Imperial Valley after leaving for college and enrolled at IVC. I graduated from IVC and then Martin enrolled in order to strengthen our family's well being and future. IVC continued to strengthen our family's future by giving us both employment within the maintenance department and Upward Bound program where I also got to work with my sister and daughter. Yulinda was inspired to attend IVC after seeing both of her parents graduate from IVC and knew that IVC was the best fit for her. Robert, our son in-law, was also a student athlete as he was part of the basketball team. Although our son Martin didn't get the opportunity to attend, the IVC board and leadership still embraced his legacy by introducing the first legislation declaring Gang Awareness and Prevention day at IVC. We are proud and honored to all be IVC alumni. This institution has granted us the tools to change not only our lives but the lives of the communities we live in.

“Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world.”

YISEL COVARRUBIAS

Yisel Covarrubias was raised by immigrant parents in the Imperial Valley, minutes away from the U.S./Mexico border. Growing up in a rural community while experiencing medical issues as a child gave her a deep empathy and desire to help other communities suffering similar socio-economic barriers in access to healthcare.

Covarrubias graduated magna cum laude from Concordia University Texas with a bachelor’s degree in global public health and a minor in political science. Her passion for public policy grew through her time working in the Texas Senate and Texas House of Representatives, during the 86th and 87th legislative sessions.

Covarrubias holds a Master’s in Public Health from UTHealth and is currently studying law at the University of Arkansas Little Rock William H. Bowen School of Law. She intends to pursue a career in music, intellectual property, and public policy.

“During my MPH I worked on a project analyzing the air quality in the Imperial Valley and how to make changes to remove indoor air pollution since the outdoor is so bad. I’m always thinking about the IV! I hope to return one day and address environmental and economic issues that keep the Valley from thriving. That’s the dream.”

BUILDING LEADERS

The IVC Foundation also sponsors the IVC Ambassadors. The IVC Leadership Ambassadors program provides opportunities for Imperial Valley College students interested in developing their leadership effectiveness while building stronger connections between IVC, future students, and the community at-large.

IVC's Student Ambassadors assist and volunteer with the College's development events and enhance the welcoming of new students to the Imperial Valley College community. Additionally, Student Ambassadors serve as the face of IVC at a number of community relations events.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING

The Institute is using The Student Leadership Challenge,[®] based on the international best-selling book, "The Leadership Challenge" by James M. Kouzes and Barry Z. Posner.

The course is a high-impact leadership development program that has stood the test of time for over three decades.

Research-driven and evidence-based, The Five Practices of Exemplary Leadership[®] model stands apart with a simple, yet profound, principle at its core: leadership is a learnable set of behaviors that is available to everyone, at every level, regardless of title or position.

Categories include:

- Writing categories of essays and poetry (English)
- Visual arts categories of photography, painting, and drawing
